

Nunavut Teachers' Association

NEWS RELEASE

December 07, 2009

It is with great pleasure that the Nunavut Teachers' Association extends sincere congratulations to two of its members honoured with a prestigious School Administrator Award.

The Canadian Association of Principals (CAP) has recognized outstanding principals and vice-principals in the provinces and territories with "Distinguished" Principal and Vice-principal awards. Cathy Lee, Co-Principal of Attagoyuk High School in Pangnirtung has been selected for Nunavut as the winner of the Distinguished Principal Award and Romeyn Stevenson, Vice-Principal, Inuksuk High School in Iqaluit has been selected as the winner of the Distinguished Vice Principal Award. Both recipients have had their names submitted for further national recognition.

NTA is indeed proud of the accomplishments and dedication of Cathy Lee and Romeyn Stevenson to date and applaud their efforts. Both of these individuals have now joined an exemplary group of educational leaders nation wide who have been recognized by the Canadian Association of Principals.

Please join with the Nunavut Teachers' Association in congratulating Cathy Lee and Romeyn Stevenson!

Regards,

Robin Langill
